September 2001: New Ways Forward with the QXCI

The Budapest seminar presented some brilliant new facilities enabling new ways of working. This seminar explains how to get the best from these exciting developments and give you hands on practical experience in their use.

This seminar grows out of several very successful John Kelsey seminars in the past 6 months. The key factors in their success were a solid structure, hands on experience and tutor availability to give individual input as and when required.

4. Paired working on a real client.

October 2001: Emotional, Mental & Spiritual Work with the QXCI

The emotional area is fundamental to our wellbeing. Many spiritual teachers have referred to the importance of emotional experiences on this plane in our soul journey. Emotional and mental health is an area where many clients feel awkward and many practitioners may feel ill equipped. This seminar provides gentle and amazingly effective tools for this process.

The QX has facilities to make this an amazingly fast process: one client stated that in two weeks she made more progress than in 6 years of psychotherapy.

- Safe and deep approaches for finding and resolving emotional issues.
- The role of Neurotransmitters
- Brain wave and brain scan facilities
- Special session on Attention Deficit and learning difficulties.
- Flower Remedies and their benefit as ongoing, gentle facilitators

Jan 2002: A very special Allergy weekend.

Principle speaker will be Dr J Mansefield who is one of the UK's leading allergy specialists and one of the first and still very few to operate a specialist allergy clinic. The QX is in the process of being introduced into John's clinic. John will present a comprehensive understanding of the Allergy process, myths and probable truths, a comparison of diagnostic and treatment options (conventional and other). Of especial interest will be the use of client information to both find and corroborate focal areas. Nutrition and homeopathic aspects will be included. The facilities within the QX will be extensively addressed. The intention is that at the end of the weekend this whole area will be far better understood and thus practitioners will be able to use QX skills as well as being able to offer the beneficial support aspects.

March 2002: Digestion and Nutrition

Anthony Haynes uses the QX extensively in his Harley St. practice. He is a very well qualified nutritionist and lectures at major training institutions in the UK. It is often said in the world of Naturopaths that a healthy digestion is a fundamental requirement for good health. Two thirds of the immune system lies in the GI system. This weekend will be a balance between live patient demo's on the digestion, nutritional and food aspects within the QX (in conjunction with corroborative questionnaires and symptom patterns) and an understanding of the digestion and nutrient assimilation process. Common digestive dysfunction identification and treatment as well as food nutrition will be included.

November 2002: Open day for QX Learning.

Our intention is to provide a forum where:

- Your Questions get answered.
- Remedies in the QX are explained and sources are provided.
- The nature of the Test matrix and how to use it is explained.
- Several ways of working with the test matrix information are shown live.
- Program updates are made available.
- How to access the discussion groups and learning support materials is explained.
- If appropriate and time permits protocols presented at the QX Barcelona Conference are to be outlined.
- The accreditation process is explained.
- Topics and structure for future seminars are discussed.

The day will be focused on how to use the QX.

There will be an option session from 4pm to 5pm where we will explain the role of the Q2 Vitality Device, the Scenar and the Multilayer Treatment Blanket in the health process, and how these interface with the QXCI. There may be an opportunity to experience or see these in action. Hosts experienced in the theory and clinical application of the QX and other devices will be present.

March 2003: Practical & Useful Homeopathy for Non Homeopaths

With Sally Ann Hutcheson, John Kelsey & Azizah Clayton

Sally Ann Hutcheson is a practising homeopath with 7 years clinical experience and has been a QXCI user for several years. Sally Ann lectures regularly at Lakeland Homeopathic College. She has trained in Reflexology, Flower Essence Therapy and Allergy Testing. She is currently studying Naturopathy and Homotoxicology. She runs a busy practice in North London.

April 2003: A Cinderella Story: The QXCI & Homeopathy

With Robert Davidson, Azizah Clayton & John Kelsey

Robert Davidson founded the Practical College of Homeopathy in London and is the current principal. His involvement goes back to the inception of the QXCI when he gave Bill Nelson the funds for the first software. Bill subsequently taught for a number of years at Robert's college. Robert has had considerable input into the Homeopathy program in the QXCI and is acknowledged as one of the UK's cutting edge homeopaths.

He is cutting edge, irreverent, fun ...and...will be in tremendous form!

This seminar will deepen the homeopathic element to the full range of QXCI facilities, both practical and philosophical, and include live patient testing to illustrate integration of the QXCI with classical, complex and practical homeopathy.
